

Marc I. Cherney, MBA, CPA

Marc I. Cherney is an organizational development consultant who develops the financial skills and abilities of non-financial managers. He has over 20 years of combined experience in corporate financial management, operational auditing, training design & development, and seminar facilitation.

Over the years, Mr. Cherney has developed and facilitated numerous financial training programs in a variety of industries, including manufacturing, consumer products, telecommunications, and information technology. He is also an adjunct professor at DeVry University, where he creates and facilitates timely courses in management accounting, manufacturing accounting, and financial analysis.

Mr. Cherney has lectured extensively on best practices, benchmarking, cost management, total quality management, financial performance measurement systems, the balanced scorecard, activity-based costing, business process redesign, and other financial management tools. His clients include private and publicly-owned corporations, consulting & training firms, industry trade associations, and colleges & universities.

Prior to becoming an independent consultant, Mr. Cherney was associated with the CNA Insurance Companies, where he held management level positions in corporate finance, operational auditing, and corporate training.

Prior to joining CNA, Mr. Cherney held positions in the manufacturing audit division at Arthur Andersen & Co., where he planned and conducted financial audits of publicly-held manufacturing firms.

Mr. Cherney holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Journalism from the University of Illinois (Urbana-Champaign, 1976) and a Master of Science degree in Accounting from the Walter E. Heller College of Business Administration, Roosevelt University (Chicago, Illinois, 1981). Mr. Cherney is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) in Illinois. He is also a member of the Illinois CPA Society and the Chicagoland Chapter of the American Society for Training and Development.

Mr. Cherney is married and has three children. A life-long resident of the Chicago area, he enjoys jogging, tennis and swimming.